New attack on development plan

Proponents of a proposed 770-acre, $30 million residential-recreational-industrial-commercial development in Chouteau and Edwardsville Townships were critical during the weekend of a new attack by the Environmental Task Force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

The Task Force has prepared a resolution assailing construction of such facilities and is urging that it be adopted by the board of directors of East-West.

Directors include Supervisor Nelson Hagauer of Granite City and Madison Mayor Mike Saxe.

The East-West executive advisory committee is to consider the issue at its July meeting at 1:30 p.m. today.

Criticism of the resolution includes the contention that it makes inaccurate allegations about the development proposal, which has won the approval of the Madison County Board.

Text of the resolution submitted by the Environmental Task Force — which also fought the proposal in 1972 — is as follows:

The Environmental Task Force recommends that the board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council adopt the following resolution relative to the recent action by the Madison County Board to rezone flood plain acreage in Madison County, Ill.

WHEREAS the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPCO) has provided technical assistance to develop a land use plan for Madison County under contract to EWGCC, using local, state and federal tax funds, and

WHEREAS this plan, adopted by the Madison County Board, shows the wet prairie area of the American Bottom in agricultural use only, and

WHEREAS there are serious environmental questions raised be the rezoning of 770 acres of land in the American Bottom for mobile homes and apartment, commercial, light-industrial development and other non-agricultural uses, and

WHEREAS non-agricultural development in this floodplain area will compound several drainage problems such as those in Doherty Slough and other areas south of such development, and

WHEREAS federal officials from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) have expressed great concern that rezoning of the plan would nullify the considerable investment of federal and local funds already made in this area, and that such rezoning will jeopardize future federal financial assistance for Madison County, and

WHEREAS the St. Louis Area Office of HUD, in a letter to the Council dated Feb. 28, 1973, stated that a prerequisite to certification is the adoption of a land use plan which is consistent with the Council's policies; and that such a plan will describe the Council's policies and provide methods of implementation in order to assist the Council in making decisions concerning floodplain development as well as housing, transportation, etc., and

WHEREAS the correspondence from the St. Louis Area HUD office further suggests that the commitment of state and federal agencies to the St. Louis area — demonstrated through allocations of planning monies over the last seven years — merits an equal local commitment which can best be demonstrated through the adoption and implementation of the plan it develops, and

WHEREAS this rezoning action has significant regional implications because it is inconsistent with regional land use plans, and raises the issue of "whether plans once developed will be upheld or not in the interest of sound, orderly, economic and environmentally suitable growth."

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved that inasmuch as EWGCC has assumed responsibility for the development of a land use plan and policies, the Council must carry the responsibility to expedite every effort to implement such plans and policies, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that EWGCC respectfully request that the Madison County Board rescind its action rezoning 770 acres of floodplain, because of the regional implications of such action and that the rezoning petition not be reconsidered until such time as the project's potential impact on the entire Gateway Region can be ascertained, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that EWGCC respectfully request that the professional assistance of SIMAPCO, the Soil Conservation Service and other state and federal agencies participating in the development of the Madison County Land Use Plan, as well as EWGCC, be solicited to investigate the potential environmental and planning implications of the rezoning action.

The Quad-Cities exceed the minimum criteria of $250 million assessment and 60,000 population but would have a stronger case with inclusion of Belleville, which has acted to join the Belleville Area College.

Newly-passed legislation encourages consortiums such as that proposed between Southwestern and SIUE.

State Senator Sam Vadalene of this district, an Edwardsville Democrat, reports that most of the bills he sponsored were approved and that the General Assembly enacted much 1973 legislation in the best interest of the people.

Chief disappointment was the lack of action on a regional exposition hall and performing arts center; it is due for spring 1974 consideration. Accomplishments included highway, railroad safety, library aid and "good Samaritan" emergency assistance legislation.

Collection of 1972 property taxes got under way today in Venice and Chouteau Townships where tax billing and collections are being handled by town collectors.

Charles Lexow, Chouteau Township collector, said his office mailed bills to Chouteau taxpayers during the weekend and that collections were begun this morning at his office, Rural Route Two, Box 720.

Reidelberger said he will continue local collections of Venice Township taxes for 30 days, and Lexow said he has set Aug. 18 as the final date of local tax payments at his office.

Venice and Chouteau Townships are the only two townships in the Quad-City area in which mailing of bills and local collections are being

Junior college meeting tonight

A brand new Southwestern Community College to serve the Quad-Cities in cooperation with Southern Illinois University? Annexation to the Belleville or Lewis and Clark ("Godfrey") colleges?

These and other possibilities will be explored at 8:30 tonight at SIUE at a meeting to be chaired by Attorney Leo H. Konzen, head of a junior college study committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

All area colleges, SIUE, the Illinois Junior College Board and the Illinois Board of Higher Education will be represented along with the school districts of Venice, Madison, Granite City, Collinsville and Edwardsville.

Whether a consensus can develop at tonight's discussion is unknown, but the direction the meeting takes may influence the LCB at its meeting this Friday.

A staff report negative toward a new district and favoring annexation in some form is scheduled for the LCB on Friday; the state junior college board has made plans to take further action on the local area in September.

The local proposal includes not only utilization of SIUE facilities and instructors but also the former Central Junior High School and possibly the Lincoln-Venice Technical Center and certain high school facilities.

State officials expected to meet include Dr. Wellman, secretary, and Dr. Bernard Warren, deputy secretary of the SCB, and Richard Wagner of the IBHE.

'Much good legislation'

Helicopter at GC Steel

A helicopter was being utilized today to lower heavy parts and to remove old parts at a construction project at Granite City Steel Co.

The parts are elements of a new dampening system for each of the four stacks on the slab shearing furnaces which serve the 40-inch hot strip mill. The old system is being dismantled. The heaviest part being hailed weighs about 4,000 pounds. The dampers control the pressure and temperature inside the furnaces. The Brooks Construction Co. of St. Louis is the contractor.

The helicopter will be used again for one day in about a month and for another day a month after that until the project is completed.

Strike mediation to open

Federal mediation in the strike of Steelworkers Local 6496 against N.L. Industries (National Lead), Hoyt Plant, 16th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, was to begin at 10 a.m. today.

Negotiators for the union and company have not met for more than a week. The 170-member local went on strike one week ago.

Discussed has been a proposed contract offered by the company with 75 cents per hour increase over three years. Swing shift workers and truck operators would receive additional increases.

The union contends the proposal is insufficient in wages and contains a "no-strike clause" which they say would allow the company to "harass workers" without leaving them the option to strike.

The strike does not affect the Steel Package Division of N.L. Industries at 15th and State

Simon to address United Way kickoff

Paul Simon, former lieutenant governor of Illinois, will speak at the annual Tri-Cities Area United Way Kickoff dinner here Tuesday evening, Sept. 25, it was announced today.

Simon is director of a master's degree program in public affairs reporting at Sangamon State University, Springfield.

He formerly was editor-publisher of the Troy, Ill., newspaper and was part owner of a number of other Illinois publications.

Married to a former state representative, the former Jeanne Hurley, he served the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council as a member of the Illinois House of Representatives from 1964 to 1968 and then was the local state senator from 1969 through 1972. Simon held the state's No. 2 elective office from 1969 to 1972.

He is the recipient of numerous awards in the fields of journalism, legislation and governmental service.

The kickoff dinner will begin the fall 1973 campaign for United Way agencies' 1974 operating funds.

Officers of the United Way are Paul H. Kelly, president; Leo Schermer and Robert Edmonds, vice-presidents; Ralph Morris II, secretary; and John J. McDonald, treasurer.

Campaign leaders are William R. Wisner, chairman; and George Pallana, vice-chairman.

Ticket information for the dinner will be announced later.

The "tidal wave" threatening St. Louis is omitted from the Task Force ties in the unrelated Doherty Slough drainage issue and also makes sweeping, distorted assertions about the Madison County and regional land use plans.

Until the environmental unit has a more balanced membership and takes more consistently responsible and accurate stands, the board would be justified in viewing virtually all of the group's recommendations with considerable skepticism.

An editorial

The Environmental Task Force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council (St. Louis metropolitan area Council of Governments) has a tremendous potential for good. Unfortunately, it often fails to live up to that potential.

An example of its possible value is its warning this point that the record Mississippi River height of 43.33 feet on April 28, 1973, was not matched by a record volume of cubic feet per second.

If the Environmental Task Force has interpreted the volume data correctly, construction of levees has so constrained water from spreading over the natural flood plain that the artificially high river crests result. On this basis, the floods of 1844, 1892, 1903, 1908, 1909 and 1927 would have to be greater height and more damage than occurred this year, and the problem could recur often.

The recommendation is that the East-West board ban future urban or agricultural levees. If there is adequate verification of the group's findings and conclusions, the advice may prove to be quite helpful in some portions of the region.

An example of the "sour notes" the Task Force has sounded is its overzealous effort in 1972 to block a Chouteau-Edwardsville Townships project by warning of related flooding in the City of St. Louis. As we said at the time, the group apparently was predicting a "tidal wave" from inland Illinois, crossing the east bank levee, the river and then the west bank levee. Nothing could be more preposterous or untruthful.

The Task Force is up to its old tricks again, presenting to East-West's executive committee today a resolution to circumvent normal governmental processes. The target once more is the Chouteau-Edwardsville residential-commercial-recreational-industrial development proposal.

The "tidal wave" threatening St. Louis is omitted from the Task Force ties in the unrelated Doherty Slough drainage issue and also makes sweeping, distorted assertions about the Madison County and regional land use plans.

Wheeler charged by Springfield police

Charles M. Wheeler, alias Donald Bodine, charged by Granite City police with armed robbery at the A&P Market at the American Village shopping center last Wednesday, was being held by Springfield police on charges of armed robbery and attempted murder there.

He was arrested in Springfield Wednesday evening after evading police officials in a chase here and kidnapping a hostage who later was released unharmed.

It was expected that Wheeler will be required to face court action in Springfield before being returned here.

He also is wanted by Granite City police in connection with a previous armed robbery of the same A&P Market and of Gason's Drug Store and the Kruger Store.

An associate, Ronald Ingram, 17, of Springfield, who was arrested by State Trooper Gary Vail in a figure-eight steering auto chase ended in a crash at Pontoon Road and North Street, pleaded innocent to an armed robbery charge in court Thursday afternoon and was held on $15,000 bond.

Bicycle rodeo opens Tuesday

A bicycle rodeo sponsored by the Granite City Police Department's Community Relations Division for children under kindergarten through sixth grades will begin with regional competition at three locations Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Under the direction of Officer Friendly, the Great River Riders and Explorer Post 16-5, the events will be held between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. each day at Frohardt School, 200 Johnson Road, on Tuesday; McKinley School at Niedringhaus Avenue and Iowa Street on Wednesday; and Washington School on West 26th street Thursday.

Purpose of the rodeo is twofold. Patrolman Roy Kobersa said. Although safety factors combined with fun are being stressed in the contests, local youngsters also will have the opportunity to register their machines with the Granite City Police Department to aid in its recovery if stolen or lost, he added.

The riders will compete in six areas.

The children may earn up to 25 points in the bicycle safety inspection in which the bike will be checked for such things as the wheels running true and not wobbling, head tube tight, spokes tight, brakes in working order, rear-end reflectors.

A special bicycle registration tag is being compiled by Officer Friendly, listing the name, address, phone number, age of owner, the bicycle's make, size and a specific number.

The number will be etched on the bicycle in three different locations, permitting speedy identification should the machine become lost, the police officer explained.

Patrolman Kobersa said an upsurge in bicycle thefts has been noted since summer holidays began. Hopefully, the registration program will help to reduce the number of unclaimed or abandoned machines and deter thieves, he added.

The riders will compete in six areas.

The children may earn up to 25 points in the bicycle safety inspection in which the bike will be checked for such things as the wheels running true and not wobbling, head tube tight, spokes tight, brakes in working order, rear-end reflectors.

In addition to the safety inspection, the children will face a double obstacle test in which they will gauge limited space on a straight line, take a turning wheel, a figure-eight steering balance test, a straight line test and an emergency stop.

Winners of last week's regional contest will compete for new bicycles and other prizes on July 21 when the finals will be held on the 12th Street and Edison Avenue parking lot starting at 9 a.m.

Bicycles and prizes have been furnished by the American National Bank, First Granite City Savings and Loan, Grant City, State Radio and TV Co., Western Auto Supply Co. and the Associated Retailers and Civic Association.

GC Park budget up

A 1973-74 budget of $815,535 for the Granite City Park District — an increase of $58,866 over last year's appropriation of $756,669 — has been approved by the Park Board. The new appropriation bill lists expenditures of $282,520 in the general corporate fund, up from last year's $260,754, and expenditures of $533,015 in the recreation fund, increased from $175,044 last year. Other budget items include $38,136 for payment of bond principal and interest, compared with $51,871 last year; $19,500 for municipal retirement, $7,500 for purchase of tort liability insurance and $2,000 for auditing. The latter three items were unchanged from last year. Board Secretary Frank Ross says the district has a balance of $133,882 in the general corporate fund and anticipates income other than taxes of $142,000. This will leave a tax levy of $257.757 in the general fund, he said. Receipts for the recreation fund are anticipated at $20,263, which will leave a tax levy of $12.55 for recreational purposes, Ross said. The budget projects expenditures of $336,675 for operation of the park, up from $270,535 last year, while cost of operating the Wilson Park swimming pool was projected at $28,984, a drop from last year's $29,976. Administrative costs in the general fund were budgeted at $52,575, down slightly from $55,052 appropriated last year.

Beach house, dock, pavilion approved

Plans and specifications for proposed capital improvements at the Tower Lake recreation area of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were approved Friday by the SFU Board of Trustees.

Improvements are estimated to cost $81,000 and will be financed from Student Welfare and Recreation Building Trust Fund monies.

Dr. John S. Rendleman, president, was authorized to receive bids and award contracts, provided a $51,000 limit exceeded earlier by the trustees is not exceeded without concurrence of two of the three members of the executive committee of the trustees.

The executive committee is empowered to incur on contracts up to a limit of $10,000. If the contracts should exceed $10,000, concurrence by the full board as to the source of supplemental funds will be required.

In April, trustees approved a preliminary proposal to erect a beach house with shower facilities, lockers and dressing room spaces for 40 men and 30 women, a boat dock and storage area, an information and control booth and a covered picnic pavilion. Construction is expected to begin after the summer recreation season ends.

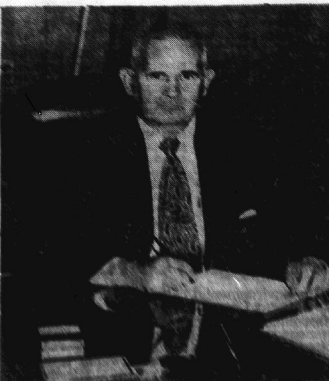

SIUE pay hikes — if available

Trustees of Southern Illinois University on Friday adopted a resolution providing for salary increases "subject to availability of funds and appropriate policies of the governor of the state of Illinois under the Illinois Board of Higher Education."

Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIU at Edwardsville, estimated salary increases for that campus would be in excess of the $376,000 in the governor's supplement to the appropriation bill, which is intended for SIUE salary adjustments.

The SIU system operating budget appropriation has been cleared the State Assembly but has not yet been signed by Gov. Dan Walker. Rendleman indicated that funds provided for salary increases in the appropriation bill would not be sufficient to cover projected salary increases and that an additional amount would come from reallocation of funds.

Wood retires after 28 years federal service

Harry C. Wood retired at Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich., after more than 28 years of federal service. For the past two years he has been the management analysis officer for the Strategic Air Command's 410th Bomb Wing at the northern tier base in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Wood of Granite City, worked in the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank as the deputy director, U.S. Treasury, Savings Bond Division. He is known to bank officials throughout southern Illinois and the St. Louis area. He traveled extensively with the McDonnell Aircraft-Mercury Capsule Exhibit.

His 20 years of federal service started with World War II service in the Navy where he was one of the first to receive the new radar technician rating.

While stationed at K. I. Sawyer Wood wrote a system for utilizing data processing to develop an Economic Impact Survey for the base. The phenomenal 90.9 per cent accuracy of the survey resulted in the Air Force re-evaluating the entire survey structure. Many civilian corporations are making a serious evaluation of utilizing this process for their own marketing purposes.

Drop partisan judicial referendum, Dixon urges

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon on Thursday called on the Illinois General Assembly to withdraw its vote calling for an amendment to the State Constitution where members of the judiciary must seek reelection in politically partisan elections.

Dixon — the chief legislative sponsor of the modern Judicial Article to reform and reorganize the Illinois court system — said he plans to talk with legislative leaders of both political parties to support his withdrawal proposal when the General Assembly convenes Oct. 15.

"Under Section 2(a) of Article 14 of the new Constitution, the legislature can withdraw a proposed amendment to the Constitution by a vote of a majority of the members elected to each house," Dixon said. "That's the step I believe the legislature should take."

"It makes no sense at all to return to the 'bad old days' where members of the judiciary must seek reelection on a strictly partisan basis," Dixon said.

"Besides being bad government change in the Judicial Article is also a costly proposition."

"Don Ed, of the State Index Division," said the cost of a constitutional ballot to be placed on the November ballot is approximately $1 million. Adding the Judicial amendment after the vote would cost between $200,000 and $300,000.

"The legislature — because of the wisdom of the delegates to the 1970 State Constitution — has the opportunity to correct, in three months, a grievous error it made during the waning days of the last legislative session. I implore the legislature to correct that error."

Dixon continued: "I believe judges should be retained on merit or rejected on lack of merit. They should not be retained or defeated in the wake of election landshakes."

"As an attorney — and also as a state elected official — I can testify first-hand that Illinois courts are in much better shape today than they were when I sponsored the present Judicial Article in the 1961 legislative session."

"I consider my sponsorship of the Judicial Article as one of my most significant contributions to state government during my 23 years in the Illinois House of Representatives and eight years in the Senate."

"Naturally, the present Judicial Article doesn't have every ingredient that some of us would like."

"But tampering with the Judicial Article — by accepting a constitutional amendment whereby judges run for reelection in partisan political contests — would return Illinois courts to a political battleground where the competent may be rewarded for political favors, rather than legal acumen. I favor improving the Judicial Article, not destroying it."

"Under the present Judicial Article, judges run the first time in partisan primary and general elections."

After that first election, judges are voted on in non-partisan elections based on their record in office.

"Under the new proposal," Dixon said, "judges would have to come back to the politicians time and time again to maintain their office. It's been the goal of many of us to take politics out of the judiciary. This amendment destroys that objective."

He outlined these items as ways the Judicial Article can be strengthened: "Raise the approval percentage a judge must receive before he is retained on the bench from 60 percent to 67½ percent."

— Strengthen the disciplinary powers of the court administrator where authenticated and documented charges against sitting judges are revealed to the public. "No good judge should fear close scrutiny," Dixon said.

— Increase the investigative powers of the Judicial Inquiry Board to make certain all judges are maintaining a full workload.

"The people of Illinois had the wisdom to approve the present Judicial Article in 1962 and improve on it as part of the State Constitution passed in 1970. I'm hopeful the legislature will not help destroy what so many people have worked so hard to build," Dixon said.

He started his career in government at the judicial level at the age of 21, winning election as police magistrate in Belleville. He then served 20 consecutive years in the state legislature before his 1970 election as state treasurer.

In the legislature, Dixon served two terms as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and was chairman of the Illinois Judicial Advisory Council — the agency which recommended all the legislation enacted to reform and reorganize Illinois courts.

Through this chairmanship, he successfully guided the Illinois Judicial Article through the General Assembly.

Man run over by auto on lot

William Leslie Keel, 54, of 3317 Ohio Ave., was injured when he was run over by an auto driven by Edwin W. Murphy, 2412 Lincoln Ave., at 3:30 p.m. Thursday on the parking lot of the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank at 1811 State St.

According to the police report, Keel fell on the lot and was unable to get back on his feet while Murphy entered his car and drove over the victim without seeing him. After feeling the impact, Murphy stopped.

The fire department rescue unit was called to the scene but was unneeded. Keel was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was transferred to Firmin Deagle Hospital, St. Louis, following x-rays.

Seek bids on Venice sewer break repair

By MARION BARTOSIAK

Free-press staff writer
The Venice City Council authorized a call for bids for repairs to sewers damaged by spring flood conditions during a meeting last week.

Edward Juneau, city engineer, told the council that he could complete specifications today or tomorrow, bids will be open at 1 p.m. Aug. 7 and work could begin by mid-August. Some work will be done sooner.

He quoted a U. S. Army Corps of Engineers spokesman as saying that by mid-August the level of the Mississippi River should be at a normal stage and there are no other major rains of consequence.

Ten breaks have occurred in the Venice sewer system. The cost of repairs previously was estimated at $645,777. But it is believed now that the cost will be lower.

The city expects to receive some federal reimbursement through the flood damage program of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, but receipt of advance funds seemed unlikely.

Juneau said he received that impression after conferring with William Elzole, regional aid area coordinator for the Illinois Civil Defense Agency which administers the federal funds, but added that Elzole wanted to confer with Mayor John E. Lee before any action is taken on advance funding.

After the council was informed that a rainfall could cause flooding and sewer backups into homes in the area of two breaks, the council took emergency action, and authorized Juneau and the administration to let bids on Monday so that work can proceed this week where needed.

Juneau said he could provide specifications to three contractors without delay.

Fred "Cucky" Duror of Venice reported that no water was flowing through the sewers at breaks in the area of the 600 block of Washington and Jefferson avenues, and that water at a nearby manhole is close to overflowing.

Duror said pumping had been underway since Saturday, but only at the rate of 6,000 gallons a day because of inadequate equipment and transportation which was causing odors in the area.

In other business the board: Purchased a salt spreader to attach to a city truck at a cost of about $5,000.

Received a McKinley Bridge traffic report for June which showed total crossings of 38,468 for a daily average of 1,280.

Received a McKinley Bridge First National Bank in Madison commending the Venice Police Department for its assistance in the June 28 bank robbery.

Granted permission to the Madison Nativity Society of St. Mark's Church to sell beer at its fish fry on July 27.

Adopted an ordinance regulating the installation and use of mobile homes. The law requires compliance with the city and state building codes and minimum housing standards before a permit is issued by the building inspector.

Postponed adoption of a police pension fund budget pending clarification of requirements of reserve fund figures.

City Attorney Harry Hartman explained that with a 15-man active force and 10 retirees, a reserve of $200,000 is required but that there will be a reserve of $116,000 and through some apparent error or misunderstanding, the state insurance bureau has set the required amount at double the larger amount.

Earn membership recognition

Amvet Post 204 of Madison was presented last week with a membership plaque in recognition of the post's 100 per cent membership renewal program.

The presentation was made by Frank Schoenhof Jr., state Amvet representative, who brought the plaque with him from the state convention at which it was awarded last month.

The plaque was presented to Vice-Commander Tom Brunette at the post's regular meeting.

John Sedlack was appointed chairman for the Aug. 3 picnic at Arlington. Serving on the picnic committee are Stanly Shubish, Walter Kaffa, Andrew Frynish, and Schoenhof.

Nick Traversi was appointed chairman of Labor Day activities. He is being assisted by Bob Grayson and Schoenhof. Leo Clements of Amvet Post 31 was a guest.

The building committee reported that volunteers still are needed to help clean up the building at 1942 Iowa St.

Brazil a mixture of cultures

"Brazil is a melting pot of many cultures and has blended the customs of the Italians, Germans and Afros into their own distinct culture," Dennis Gillie told the breakfast Kiviana Club Thursday at its meeting at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

"I spent 20 months in Brazil in mission service for my church, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints."

"The people are very industrious and friendly. They are great admirers of the United States. About 90 per cent of the news in the papers is about the U.S."

"The diet includes beans, rice and coffee at every meal. Lunch is the main meal, generally just soup in the evening and only coffee for breakfast," he related.

"There is a big push on education. Everyone goes to school four hours a day when they are not working."

"The country's industry and technology are almost equal to the United States," Gillie said. The speaker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gillie, and his father is local manager of Granite City High School in 1970 and attended Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, where he is returning in August.

Ray Grahman, president of the newly organized service club, reminded everyone of the "Hole in One" project at Arlington from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m. on Aug. 4 and 5. He further reminded club members of the weekend boat races on Itasca Lake.

Engineering work for rapid transit

Eugene G. Moody, executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, announced last week the receipt of a $400,000 grant from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration of the federal government.

Moody said $100,000 is allocated to support the council's basic planning program, with $300,000 allocated to Phase I of preliminary engineering for a proposed 30-mile rapid transit system.

Preliminary engineering work probably can begin about October, immediately upon completion and acceptance of the updated transportation plan currently nearing completion, he added.

Phase I of preliminary engineering will find the Council analyzing transit hardware, detailing route locations, exploring with local units of government the implications of station locations, right-of-way studies and a public information program. The federal grant is a 2-to-1 matching program. East-West anticipates using local funds to match the basic planning work and a recent appropriation by the State of Missouri for preliminary engineering.

"As the final authority to insure a uniform and equitable local property assessment in a county, the Board of Review has a responsibility that requires application of proper administrative methods and legal procedures," Kirk said.

Scott rated as able to win any GOP primary he enters

By KEN WATSON
Capitol News Service
Springfield—Is House Speaker W. Robert Blair committing political suicide? That's how many at the Statehouse look at his sudden feud with Atty. Gen. William J. Scott.

Capitol cynics scoff at speculation about a power struggle for top spot in the Republican state pyramid. In such a battle, Blair would risk about as much chance of winning out over Scott as Navy has of beating Notre Dame this fall.

Scott at this stage of the rivalry has about everything going for him.

He is in his second term as attorney general, a popular as well as unquestionably effective one.

Scott led the GOP ticket last fall as far as plurality are concerned, rolling up a 1,385,000 edge over Democrat Thomas G. Lyons. This compared to U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy's 1,148,049 edge over Democrat Roman Pucinski.

Scott still rides high as the favorite ballot name of his party and, at this stage at least, can have either the 1974 congressional nomination or the 1976 nomination for governor, virtually for the taking.

There has been Statehouse snickering over Blair's suggestion that Scott take on Democrat U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson next year.

This would be like throwing a tomato into a building's pen. It would be a good show, but would it be worth it?

Seriously, though, some Republican strategists feel that Scott, despite Watergate's national economic troubles, would stand a fair chance of beating Stevenson.

But they question why he would want to take a needless risk to an exceedingly bright long-range outlook.

There is a Statehouse feeling, shared by many Democrats, that by 1976 Democratic Gov. Walker will have worn thin and can be had with little trouble by a Republican with the proven strength of Scott.

Any prospect that Blair could defeat Scott in a primary contest is considered exceedingly remote.

Blair has never run statewide and the large amount of publicity he receives in legislative controversies is not always complimentary.

He would be hard put, too, to come up with any firm party grassroots support, something Scott can now take for granted.

Everybody wants to be with whom they think will be a winner.

As a clincher, Scott—who has consistently been underrated in the political sphere—has come out a big winner with Blair in that exchange over Blair's failure to supply the single vote for Scott's bill to permit the attorney general to make statewide investigations.

The legislation had overwhelming press support throughout Illinois and the extent of corruption among past state officials won it public support.

The State's Attorneys Association had dropped earlier opposition to it.

There is little question at the Statehouse that Blair "laid-off" the bill at the specific request of Rep. W. J. Murphy of Antioch in payment for influential Murphy's support in the fight for House speaker last January.

Murphy is from Lake County, a long-recognized "liberal" county north of Chicago.

Scott, who has hit hard at the Blair-Murphy tie-up, has strengthened his own standing as a strong "law and order" man.

It is probable these days that Bill Scott is more concerned about Dan Walker than he is about Bob Blair.

Two change orders for construction of Granite City High School North were approved by the Board of Education last week.

The change, requested by Tully A. Heuser, director of buildings and grounds, call for

No effect on veterans already getting benefits

Any damage to service records in the July 13 fire at the military records center in St. Louis will have no impact on the 13 million veterans and dependents currently receiving Veterans Administration benefits. This assurance was given by Donald E. Johnson, administrator of Veterans Affairs.

VA records for those now receiving benefits are maintained mostly at the agency's 27 regional offices throughout the nation, and also at VA's 160 hospitals and two insurance centers.

VA does operate its own records processing center in the St. Louis area, but this is located about a mile from the fire-damaged military records center. This unit also serves as a repository for records of older veterans and their dependents receiving VA payments or benefits.

The vault-like security construction of the Military Personnel Records Center is blamed for the fire raging out of control for nearly two days in the "Empire" building. About 30 million personnel records were burned in the sixth floor, where the fire was concentrated. There was some water damage to records on lower floors.

Roxana trips Boosters 8-7

Roxana snatched by St. Mary's Boosters 8-7 in Inter-City baseball action Sunday in which the Boosters' outliners, including Red Davis, drove in the winning run.

A three run seventh put the lead back in St. Mary's hands 7-4, but Roxana again tied it at 7-7 in the bottom of the eighth.

In the last of the sixth a Roxana ball bounced wrong for a double, driving in the winning run.

Frank Page was the losing pitcher. He allowed only seven hits and was two-for-four at the plate.

Al Bragan, who is hitting .389 in Sunday's action in Roxana, took the crown away from Jerry Heat at the wheel of the Rich Thomas prepared Camaro.

Hans advanced to the final round by defeating Gary Kimball of St. Louis and shaver was faster than the Dodson & McCormick pro-driver in the semifinals.

Evel Kneivel, motorcycle for the Boosters, was one-for-two, John Page, hitting .285, was three-for-five as he tripped in the first inning and was sent across the plate by Ron Davis who singled.

The Boosters were stealing again. John Pucholski stole two bases which gives him eight for the season, three behind Jay Greer's 11.

"We should have won that game, but you can never tell what is going to happen in baseball," Jim Green, Boosters manager, said. "Page pitched a good game, but that ninth inning ball took a bad bounce for a double and that blew the game."

The Boosters were scheduled to play makeup games at Highland on Friday but it had to be postponed for the second time as both teams had several players on military reserve duty.

St. Mary's is now 3-7 and will host the East Alton Vets at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Maera Industrial Park diamond.

Mercer will play Midler on Fitchner Field at 2 p.m. Sunday in Collinsville and will host Roxana in Wilson Park at 2 p.m. Sunday.

10 new cagers signed by Cougars

Jim Dudley has signed 10 candidates for his 1973-74 Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball squad: four are junior college transfers, four are freshmen and two are coming to the Cougars from a school in Texas which has given up sports.

Dudley, whose Cougar cagers posted a 16-9 season last campaign, listed seven seniors by graduation, including his floor general and leading scorer for the past two years, Tony Johnson.

Two other positions which will be extremely difficult to fill will be those of Terry Carlson, the gangling 6-6 shooting star from Collinsville, Ill., and Kevin Mote, and Johnson's running mate at guard, dead-eyed Denny Thornburg, the pride of Woodfield, Ill.

All but two of the new players are 6-5 tall or better. Tallest is JC transfer Roy Rickenberg, 6-9 native of St. Louis, Ill., who played the past two seasons at Rend Lake Junior College in Mt. Vernon. The three other JC transfers are Ernie St. Louis, Doug Young, a 6-5 performer who starred two seasons for Missouri's Jackson County College, Rick Fingerhut, 6-6 guard by way of St. Louis' Lindbergh High and Meramec JC, and 6-6 Rick Larson, a standout both at Robinson, Ill. High School and Washburn Valley JC.

The other three frosh cagers are: 6-5 Joe Kimpa, who played on the Moline High School team which advanced to the quarter-final round of the large school Illinois State Tournament before bowing out; Jim Fonteyne, a 6-4 performer from East Moline High; and Ron Lorenz, a 6-4 standout from Elmhurst.

The two Texas transfers, from the University of Corpus Christi, are Junior Tom Butler, from Gary, Ind., and Kevin (Toots) Kellerman of Breese's Mater Die High.

Dudley also has two regular starters returning in front-line positions: "Butch" Ferree of Indiana and senior forward Leon Wadell of Chicago. These two, plus junior varsity star John Strubberg of Belleville's St. Henry Prep and three red-shirted men in the team, Keith McFarland, Wayne Heinrich and Dan Kopenhaver, are the main contenders for varsity action.

McFarland, the 6-4 former Triad High School scoring sensation who also was in the top ten in the nation's junior college scores while playing Belleville Area College for two seasons, appears to have the best chance of gaining a starter's berth. Heinrich, who is

Chapin, Sha Na Na on River Fest program

The opening week of popular concerts at the Mississippi River Festival will cover a wide spectrum of musical entertainment ranging from baladeur Harry Chapin's songs with a message on Tuesday, to the First Lady of Jazz, Ella Fitzgerald, on Friday, July 20.

In between the Festival will rock with the sounds of the 50s recaptured by Sha Na Na on Wednesday night. The midweek Mississippi River Festival Concerts at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Opening acts will include guitarist Leo Kottke on Tuesday. The Guild on Wednesday and "Americana" Performing Arts Training Center, Miss Katherine Dunham, director, on Friday.

Harry Chapin, whose hit "Taxi" stayed on top of the charts for many weeks this season, is winner of Billboard's most coveted award, Trendsetter of the Year for 1973, and also was nominated at best New Artist of 1972 for the Grammy Awards.

Chapin's music is based on the unusual and controversial mixture of cello, bass, rhythm and lead guitar that produces a unique sound in contemporary popular music. His individual approach to lyrics is to tell stories, not merely evoke a mood.

Chapin's Tuesday engagement will mark his first appearance at the Mississippi River Festival.

Sha Na Na, who will appear at the Festival is composed of 12 musicians who banded together to preserve, protect, defend and promote "Good Old Rock and Roll" specifically the rock and roll of the 1950s.

Appearing with slicked-back DA haircuts, gold lame suits, undershirts and dirty jeans, they have garnered the all-time encore record at the Fillmore West and played a 30-minute set at the Fillmore East which earned them ten standing ovations.

Ella Fitzgerald, known as "The First Lady of Jazz," will bring her exceptional vocal skills and showmanship to the Festival on Friday night, July 20, at 8:30 p.m. In her nearly 40 years of performing, Ella has been active in all phases of entertainment from night club dates, to concert hall performances, to television appearances and specials, and, of course, to the recording industry where she has cut over 100 albums.

She has received all awards and citations available in her

John Browning, who will be making his Mississippi River Festival debut, has performed frequently with the Saint Louis Symphony in Powell Symphony Hall, most recently during the 1971-72 season.

With a career that spans the world, Browning has made 30 European tours in the past 15 years and has performed with every major American orchestra.

He has made three tours of the Soviet Union, appearing in recital in most of the major cities and as soloist with the orchestras of Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev.

For the Sunday evening performance Michel Legrand will conduct the Orchestra in a popular program of orchestral works and songs with vocalist Johnny Mathis.

Legrand, a native of Paris, is best known for his award winning film scores. Among the hits from his scores are "The Windmills of Your Mind," "What Are You Doing the Rest of Your Life," "Pieces of Dreams" and "I Will Wait for You."

Mathis, whose popularity has never dwindled, has recorded over 50 albums during the past 15 years and is the only singer to have four of them listed simultaneously as best sellers on national music charts.

His "Johnny's Greatest Hits" won a special award from Billboard Magazine in being the only album to remain in the "Top 100" for over a consecutive years.

Among his first hits were "Wonderful, Wonderful," "It's Not For Me To Say," and "Chances Are." He has received eight gold records for the one million sales mark in albums.

Young men must register for draft

Young men must still register with Selective Service at the time of their 18th birthday even though there is no draft. Paul C. Johnson, chairman of Selective Service Local 165, pointed out today.

He urged those men who have not registered to do so promptly. "Failure to register is a violation of the law," Johnson emphasized, "and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice."

The President's authority to induct men into the service expired on July 1. The administration does not plan to seek an extension of this authority, and the Defense Department is relying on volunteer enlistments to supply military manpower.

Only induction authority over those not previously deferred expired on July 1, Johnson said. All other provisions of the Military Selective Service Act remain in force.

The annual lottery will be held.

Young men must continue to register and their local boards will classify them as to their availability for possible military service should Congress authorize the resumption of inductions in the event of a national emergency.

Johnson said the law requires that all male persons, except certain non-immigrant aliens in the United States, must register with Selective Service with the 60-day period commencing 30 days prior to their 18th birthday.

He stressed that young men actually have three legal obligations: They must register at age 18, they must notify their local Selective Service boards when they change addresses, and they must carry their draft cards with them until their liability expires, which for most men today is at age 26.

Selective Service is a major organization at this time, Johnson explained, as the system reverts to standby operation with no inductions taking place. Many local boards are being relocated or consolidated at a fewer number of administrative sites across the state.

To eliminate the need for young men to travel to these administrative sites, Johnson said registrars and advisors to registrars have been appointed in most communities.

With no inductions now planned, few problems should arise for the registrants who would require them to visit the administrative sites, Johnson reported.

Local Board 165 is operating at Post Office & Federal Building, Edwardsville, with office hours from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Fridays.

Registration also may be accomplished by the following volunteer registrars: Mrs. Fern Hahn, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Bravley, Mrs. Agnes Fald, Miss Edna Mae McElm, Granite City High School, Vandalia High School, and Madison High School.

Blood drive opens here

A four-day drive for blood contributions was set under way this afternoon under the sponsorship of the Quad-City Council of Church Women United.

The Red Cross blood-mobile was to begin accepting blood donations at 2 p.m. today at St. Margaret Mary Church, 1800 St. Clair Ave., continuing until 6:45 p.m.

Similar hours will be maintained tomorrow at the same location, and on Wednesday blood donations will be taken from 1 p.m. until 6:45 p.m. at St. Margaret Mary Church.

The bloodmobile will move Thursday to St. Mary's Church, 1621 Tenth St., Madison, where donations will be accepted from 2 p.m. until 6:45 p.m.

The mid-summer drive was organized by Church Women United to meet a need for whole blood and to assist participating church members in securing blood when it is necessary.

According to Mrs. Stephen Gargac, chairman of the local drive, it is hoped that the drive will provide blood free of charge to congregation members if one-fourth of that congregation donates blood to the Red Cross in a given year.

Miss Jill Hadden, field representative of the Missouri drive, is area churches are participating in the program which will provide blood free of charge to congregation members if one-fourth of that congregation donates blood to the Red Cross in a given year.

Car to be battered in unusual benefit event

Persons who have been injured by an auto at one time or another — either in a traffic collision or as a pedestrian — will have an opportunity to take revenge in a unique event Saturday at the Matthews Chevrolet lot at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues.

All proceeds will be given to St. Elizabeth Hospital to buy equipment for the emergency room. The public will be given a chance to batter an auto with a sledge hammer — in return for a contribution.

The car will be furnished by Matthews Chevrolet, where a spokesman said it is hoped city officials, doctors, hospital personnel and anyone else willing to make a donation will wield a sledge on the auto.

Radios stolen

Theft of two citizen band radios occurred Friday evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, 1633 Wellington Drive, reported a theft while her car was parked at the Bellemore shopping center. A two-way radio, valued at $170, and a $17 garage door opener were taken from her car.

Mrs. Hazel Wieser, No. 12 Frontenac Lane, reported a theft while she was shopping at the National store thieves took a two-way radio from her car.

Cycles stolen

Two motorcycles were stolen Saturday night.

Police received a report at 4:30 a.m. from James Arnett, 2133 Monroe Ave., that his 60cc black cycle was taken from his garage.

Jack Palmer, 1533 Garfield Ave., reported at 6:10 a.m. that someone had stolen his blue and white 1972 Honda parked at his home.

Steel sculpture donated for new GC High School

The softform steel sculpture "Transition," which is owned by Granite City Steel Co. and has been on display at First Granite City National Bank, will be donated by the steel company to the Granite City School District for Granite City High School North.

In a letter to the Board of Education, steel company officials said the school would "be an appropriate permanent home for a steel sculpture commissioned by Granite City Steel," because of the sports team name chosen by the school's students, "Steelers."

The sculpture, done by Rodney Winfield, is to be dedicated with the building. It will carry a plaque with the title, the artist and acknowledgement of the presentation to the school by Granite City Steel Co.

The Board of Education accepted the gift at its meeting last week.

At the meeting the board awarded a $24,000 contract to Singer-Link to install 14 driver simulator systems at GCIS South for driver education classes. The Singer-Link bid was lower than a $24,999 bid from Aetna Systems.

The board also awarded contracts totaling $7,463 for girls physical education supplies and equipment. Crackers and snacks were ordered purchased from the Sea Food Division of Vita Food Products Co. on low bid. Potato chips are to be purchased from the Kist Foods Division of Fairmont Foods Co. as best meeting needs and because the company offers the school district a 1 per cent per month discount.

Modern Linen Services was low bidder on towel and rag laundry service at 1 cent per towel and 25 cents per pound of rags.

Ice cream items were ordered purchased from Valley Farm Dairy, St. Louis, on the basis of low bid to specifications.

Prairie Farms Dairy, Inc., was the only bidder on ice cream products which include cones and maintenance and straw.

Hilda Brand was selected from four bidders to supply dishwashing materials and National Auto Supply Co. was low bidder on supplying V-belts.

A lease-purchase agreement with Taylor Pressmen was approved for a $3,000 malt and milk shake freezer at GCIS-N.

The unit could be purchased with credits to the district of $1 for each gallon of freezer milk used. Approval was contingent upon study and a recommendation by the district's attorney since the item could not be bid.

A sign maker kit was purchased from the manufacturer's address in the item or the package.

Address your letter to the attention of the president of the company. This method has produced satisfactory results for many people.

However, if both these methods fail, you may want to report your problem to the state attorney general's office.

In Illinois, the state attorney general's office enforces the Consumer Fraud Act. The act provides protection against common frauds, deceptions and any other problems consumers have, including unsolicited merchandise, deceptive lending and interest rates and misleading advertising.

The services of the attorney general's office are free to anyone having problems with a company operating in Illinois. When possible, the office tries to see that defrauded consumers are repaid.

Problems need not result in a major loss to receive attention from the attorney general's office. In fact, most of the money refunded to consumers has been in small amounts ranging from $10 to $25.

If you have a consumer problem that you feel violates the Consumer Fraud Act, the Illinois attorney general, or the state attorney of any county in the State of Illinois, can take action against the violator.

Report your claim to your county state attorney, or to Attorney General, 305 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62701; or to Attorney General, Room 204, 124 N. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill. 60601.

Law protects consumers

If you live in Illinois and have a consumer problem, you have several courses of action.

The first recommendation is going to the store where the purchase was made. Most store managers prefer you come to them with your problem rather than complaining to your neighbors. And in most cases, notifying the management is the quickest and easiest way to get satisfaction.

However, if both these methods fail, you may want to report your problem to the state attorney general's office.

In Illinois, the state attorney general's office enforces the Consumer Fraud Act. The act provides protection against common frauds, deceptions and any other problems consumers have, including unsolicited merchandise, deceptive lending and interest rates and misleading advertising.

L'Roy-Starling wedding

First Assembly of God Church, 26th Street and Grand Avenue, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Janice M. Starling of Pasadena, Tex., and Alan E. L'Roy of Houston, Tex., Friday, June 28.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Frances T. Starling, 301 Holiday Park, Gravelmann, Tex., and the late Melvin T. Starling, Mr. L'Roy is a son of M. E. L'Roy, 263 Knabusch, Berge, Tex., and Mrs. Robert Crawford, 14127 Garber Lane, Houston, Tex.

Performing the double ring ceremony at eight o'clock was the Rev. M. A. Groff, an uncle of the groom.

Two candelabras holding burning tapers, with arrangements of summer floral bouquets in the center, decorated the sanctuary. White satin bows interspersed with greenery marked the pews.

Mrs. Frances Albrecht sang "More," "I Have But One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Jack Jenkins, organist, and Joe Grindstaff, violinist. Larry Smalley, Mrs. Albrecht and Mr. Grindstaff also sang "Never My Love" and "Wedding Song."

Melvin D. Starling of Baltimore, Md., escorted his sister down the white-carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage.

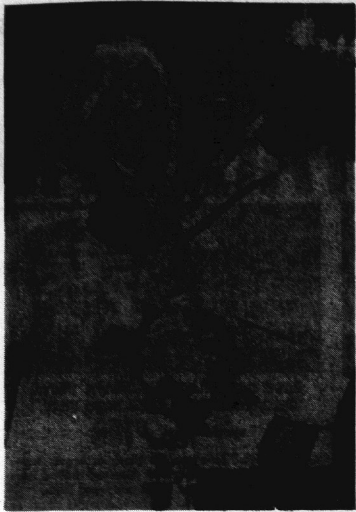

She chose a gown of white silk organza fashioned with a high wedding ring neckline of lace. Tiny covered buttons accented the front of the bodice and the long sleeves were gathered at the cuffs with lace. Her A-line skirt was designed with decorative bands of lace encircling the hem.

She wore a long mantilla veil of bridal tulle edged in an Italian lace and held a bouquet of white carnations, lilies of the valley, baby breath and lily of the valley.

Miss Carolyn L. Starling, a sister of the bride, maid of honor, wore a floor-length dress of white ribbon lace over blue tulle.

Long full sleeves, with fitted cuffs, were set in an Empire bodice featuring a high neckline. She wore an ice blue picture hat and carried a cascade of blue tulle, carnations, baby breath and greenery.

Paul Klever of Houston attended the groom as best man. Serving as ushers were Gary Schmitz and Tim Groff.

Lighting the candles were Teresa Groff, a cousin of the groom, and Jay Starling, the bride's niece. They were long friends in cotton ballade, one in pink and the other in ice green mint color.

Mrs. Starling, mother of the bride, was attired in a long orchid polyester crepe frock accented at the neckline with a beaded pearl trim and white accessories.

Mrs. Crawford, mother of the groom, selected a long sapphire style dress of orchid over an orchid and white silk print. Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held in the church fellowship hall.

After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., they will reside in Houston, Tex. The former Miss Starling is a graduate of Granite City High School and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She was a member of the New Life Singers of the First Assembly of God Church and is presently employed as a secretary for Acton Finance Corp. in Houston.

Her husband graduated from Burger Senior High School and is currently a junior at the University of Houston, majoring in oceanography.

Christian Counseling Center is opened

Joining Pastor Allen Groff and Assistant Minister, Don Albrecht at First Assembly of God, 26th Street and Grand Avenue, in the field of counseling are Dr. John Forbush, Gene Knapp and Larry Smalley.

Forming the Community Christian Counseling Center, the team of counselors is available to explore the problem areas related to marital, educational, spiritual, vocational, emotional and other difficulties experienced by many seeking assistance.

Knapp and Smalley, who both hold graduate degrees in counseling, are teachers in the Granite City School District. Forbush is director of the Office of Teacher Education at SIUE and assistant professor in the School of Counselor Education. New parents dine at hospital 'Stork Club'

Pretty young girls in colorful long gingham dresses are only part of the accommodations provided in a new program now underway on the obstetrics floor at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Known as "The Stork Club," the newly devised service caters solely to the mothers and fathers of infants born at the local hospital.

The innovative idea was conceived by the Dietary and Volunteer Departments, which are responsible for operating the program.

As part of the service a gourmet meal is served the new mother and her guest in a candlelight setting arranged in the day room on the maternity floor.

Distinct menus and attractive place settings and napkins, designed under the supervision of Matt Ingram, director of dietary services, are used to enhance the surroundings and create a pleasant and memorable occasion.

Special attention at the dinner is focused on the new father, frequently referred to as "childbirth's forgotten man" in obstetrics wards where consideration is concentrated on mother and child.

Several young women, who are members of the hospital's volunteer Candystrippers, have been selected to serve as

Miss Jane Martin and Lynn Laswell are wed

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Jane Martin of Bushnell, Ill., and Lynn Laswell of Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, taking place at the First United Methodist Church in Bushnell.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of peau de soie satin. The bodice of Nottingham lace over peau de soie featured a standup collar and was accented with full sleeves ending in wide cuffs of lace. The natural waistline was a layered cummerbund.

Matching hats with satin ribbons were worn and they carried natural wicker baskets filled with multicolored garden flowers and baby breath.

Miss Laura Laswell, sister of the groom, and Dean Fayhee, nephew of the bride, served as flower girl and ring bearer. Miss Elaine Swisher, a cousin of the bride, presided over the guest book.

Pamela James becomes Mrs. Michael Carnahan

Tall white urns filled with white summer flowers interspersed with pink roses and blue carnations and bouquets of greenery adorned the altar and brunched candleholders holding lighted blue tapers illuminated the sanctuary of Glenview Chapel Assembly of God, Wilson and Macarville roads, for the wedding of Miss Pamela Kaye James and Airman Michael A. Carnahan, U.S. Air Force.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill L. Shaw, 1824 Wellington Drive. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hotson, reside at 3128 Willow Ave.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening was the Rev. M. W. Wilson.

Mrs. Sandra Stewart presided at the organ for Miss Debbie Rich as she sang "The Twelfth of Never," "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "Close To You," "Whither Thou Goest" and "We've Only Just Begun."

Blue satin bows marked the pews on each side of the white carpeted aisle along which Mr. Shaw escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage.

She wore a gown fashioned of ivory satin, peat organza accented with lace appliques etched with tiny seed pearls. Lace and pearls formed the high neckline and enhanced the long fitted sleeves.

A lavish floral design of lace and pearl motifs created the decorative trim on the front of the princess skirt, extending into a full chapel-length train.

She wore a small bow headpiece to secure her melody-length veil of bridal illusion and she held a cascade bouquet of pink carnations, pink Sweetheart roses and greenery festooned with long pink satin streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Kim Shaw, a sister of the bride, and Miss Della Antoff, bridesmaid, were gowned in identical full-length dresses of blue chiffon made in Empire style with slightly gathered skirts.

Candlelight, Venetian lace, centered with an embroidered floral trim, traced the crescent waistlines, outlined the high stand-up collars and formed vertical rows on the fitted bodices. The unique accent lace banded the puffed Victorian sleeves.

They wore blue picture hats with long streamers and carried colonial bouquets of blue carnations, pink baby breath in a garland of greenery and long blue satin streamers.

Rhonda Allen, the little flower girl, wore a long frock identical in style to the adult attendants' gowns and she held a basket of flower petals.

Timothy Pabst, ring bearer, carried the satin covered ring pillow.

The groom chose Jim Laferty as his best man. Phillip R. Carnahan, a brother of the groom, was groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Dennis Ragan and Mark Shaw, a brother of the bride.

Miss Tami Jaisel attended the guest book at a reception held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Hotson, the groom's parents, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner given at Temples Smorgasbord.

Mrs. Shaw chose for her daughter's wedding, a floor-length gown of pale blue brocade embellished in shades of blue, hot pink and avocado. Designed with a natural fitted waistline, the skirt was slightly full at the sides and the sleeveless polyester bodice was enhanced with an open lapel collar and tiny buttons to the waist. She wore a long sleeved brocade jacket to complement her attire and a corsage of white roses trimmed in pink.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Hotson, selected a floor-length gown of blue and white polyester. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of white roses.

After a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks the newly married couple will reside in Belleville where the groom is stationed at Scott Air Force Base.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride was formerly employed at Krehovich Realty. She was a member of the Future Homemakers of America and the Future Secretaries of America while attending high school.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Henrietta Bagwell of Clarksville, Tenn.; Mrs. Edith Gettings and son, Kevin, of Urbana; Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Jones Jr. of Columbus, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Steven Thompson of Crawfordsville, Ind.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Jones of Atlanta, Ga.

Moose Women honored

Mrs. Edna Miller and Mrs. Mildred Votopul, members of the Granite City Chapter 247 Women of the Moose, received awards at a meeting last week of the College of Regents.

The red tassel was presented to Mrs. Miller, signifying one year of service in the College of Regents and a red stole signifying four years of service in the College of Regents was presented to Mrs. Votopul. The presentations were made by Mrs. Marian Lipcomb and Mrs. Virginia Sever.

Mrs. Para Fry, Mrs. Catherine Tudoroff, Mrs. Dorothy Beck and Mrs. Mary Uherick were enrolled as members.

Mrs. Miller, College of Regents chairman, presided over the meeting attended by regents from Moose chapters in Edwardsville, Wood River, Cahokia, Alton and Granite City.

Top lily awards to Mrs. Vinton

The Greater St. Louis Hemerocallis Society presented its eleventh hemerocallis show, accredited by the American Hemerocallis Society at the Floral Display House, Missouri Botanical Gardens, St. Louis.

Mrs. Gloria L. Vinton, 2248 Wayne Ave., earned five first-place awards, three purple ribbons best in class and one second award.

She has 500 registered varieties of hemerocallis day lilies in bloom at her present time. She became interested in the lilies in 1964 and has added to her collection since then.

Mrs. Vinton has a space 80x80 feet which is a mass of blooms from early spring until late fall. Varieties receiving ratings for Mrs. Vinton were Jade Piece, Sable Night, Tick Tock, Ava Michelle, Moon River and Sammy.

Mrs. Agnes Miller, 1240 Johnson Road, won a seedling third place; she has a number of the varieties at her home.

Too much Presidential power over the economy

By JEFFREY ST. JOHN
Copy News Service
NEW YORK — "Adam Smith's political economy," observes the British writer E.G. West in "Adam Smith: The Man and His Works" (Arlington House, New Rochelle, N.Y.), "has meaning for all times, and indeed in many ways the modern era has not yet caught up with it."
Nineteen Hundred Seventy-Three marks the 200th birthday of this Scotsman who gave the world the best and most enduring blueprint for economic prosperity ever written. "The Wealth of Nations."
The revolution this work created in favor of economic freedom was as far-reaching as the American Revolution of 1776 for political freedom.
Both rebellions were against the 18th Century concept of mercantilism, which has more relevance to the type of government-managed economy we have in the West today than many realize or seem willing to acknowledge.
So, in this sense, the ideas of Adam Smith have not, as Dr. West indicates, caught up with the modern era. In fact, what Smith had to say about the economic structure of the 18th Century is applicable to many dubious practices of the 20th Century U.S. government-managed economy.

Springfield bureau — Federal agents utilized in Illinois to put pressure on dissenters from Presidential policies

Testimony by John W. Dean III is tremendously damaging to President Nixon and his administration, even though much of what Dean testified to had been leaked to the press in advance.
Efforts to discredit Dean appear so far to have failed, because his testimony has been so enormously comprehensive, his manner has been so assured and he seems truly what he says he is, a man who saw the error of his ways and has found peace of mind by telling the truth as he knows it.
The White House has succeeded only in continuing to look bad by trying to discredit Dean or to picture him as the principal culprit in the Watergate mess.

The latest White House "explanation" of Watergate, described as a 10-page memorandum and six or seven pages of questions for the Senate Select Committee to put to Dean, is counted to be the sixth so far produced.

First, Watergate was described as being unconnected with the White House or the Committee for the Re-Election of the President. Then it was labeled a low-level committee operation in which White House personnel were not involved.

When Dean was fired and other top aides resigned, Mr. Nixon said in a televised address that some of his assistants became overzealous. He followed later with an explanation that Watergate was an outgrowth of his efforts to protect national security, and that he had contributed to the cover-up out of concern that investigations might compromise national security.

Next, the White House put out an explanation that for the first time implicated H.R. (Bob) Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, who Mr. Nixon earlier had said were not to blame.

The sixth position is reported again to exonerate Haldeman and Ehrlichman and contend they were deceived by Dean.

Against this background, Dean's candor appears refreshing.
The key question, of course, is the President's knowledge of or participation in the cover-up, particularly in regard to paying hush money to those already implicated or providing executive clemency for one or more persons convicted.

So far, it is only one man's word against another's, and we do not know what the final conclusions on this question will be, or whether there will be conclusions.

But in some other areas Dean's revelations of the method of White House operation bring grim insight into the way the Nixon administration has wielded power. Some examples:

— The discussions about the Watergate investigation committee and the way the White House sought to manipulate members of the committee and the hearings to the administration's advantage. The concern was not with helping the committee find the truth, but with ways to influence members of the committee — even to selecting counsel for the committee — in order to subvert the probe.

— The "enemies list" of politicians, newsmen, union officials and businessmen for whom the White House would seek to cause trouble by ordering investigations of them. The investigations — conducted by the FBI, Internal Revenue Service, and other agencies — were obviously designed to cause trouble for the Nixon "enemies," or to provide a basis for pressuring those "enemies" to lay off the administration.

— Secret Service actions to remove demonstrators who might prove embarrassing to the President. An example of that practice was reported recently, when Mr. Nixon visited the Lincoln Home area in Springfield. It occurred here a couple of years ago when the President was in Springfield to sign the bill declaring the Lincoln Home area a national historic site. Secret Service men are charged with protecting the President from physical injury, not from critical banners waved from the back of the crowd. The actions as described by Dean and by some persons at Peabody smacked of totalitarianism, not democracy.

Dean described the way cover stories were fabricated by the White House and the way press aide Ronald Ziegler was used to put out false information.

All of these things combine to shake public confidence in the Nixon administration.

Washington bureau — Administration continued to attempt to intimidate critics even after start of Watergate hearings

Sen. Lowell Weicker, the Connecticut Republican who is a member of the Senate Watergate committee, is understandably concerned about Nixon administration efforts to tarnish him, obviously to reduce the credibility of what he says as a committee member.

This is an old political game: If you can't shut 'em up, discredit 'em so nobody will put faith in what they say. And few have played that game better than President Nixon and his associates.

Part of what makes the whole Watergate mess so appalling is the thesis on which those pushing the re-election of Mr. Nixon operated: that you did not conduct a campaign just by discussing and debating public issues, but that you sought out and circulated derogatory information about your opponents, particularly in regard to their private lives, and if no such information were available, you made up some and circulated it.

Apparently the same mentality prevailed in the Nixon administration in regard to the committee to investigate the Watergate matter. Former White House counsel John Dean III has testified to that, and Sen. Weicker read into the record portions of a conversation between former Presidential aide John D. Ehrlichman and former Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst which backed up Dean's testimony.

It indicated White House pressure on Weicker last March to quit making statements that Watergate responsibility went higher than the seven persons who were convicted in connection with the Democratic Headquarters break-in.

Weicker said he learned in early April about rumors circulated in Washington to the effect that the White House had assisted him in getting a $60,000 cash campaign contribution in 1970, but that he had never reported the contribution. He contended the same rumor was planted recently by a Washington newsmen by Charles Colson, another former White House aide.

Colson flatly denies Weicker's charge, so once again we have a case of one man's statement against another's.

However, so far, Weicker has created the impression he is a man who puts truth and objectivity above party labels and loyalty to an administration, and that he has the courage to resist pressures that he do otherwise.

He indicated at a recent committee hearing that he believes it is long past time the administration or its supporters should cease applying such pressures. He said in questioning Dean:

"Let's put it this way, whether it's you, or me, or any other witness, there are going to be no more threats, no intimidation, no innuendo, no working through the press to go ahead and destroy the credibility of individuals."

"If the executive branch of government wants to meet the standards the American people set for it in their minds, the time has come to stop reacting and stop playing this type of game."

Weicker was referring not only to his own situation but that of Dean in which the administration sought, with the help of even such estimable people as Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott, to destroy Dean's credibility before he testified.

Kleindienst, in his conversation with Ehrlichman, described Weicker as an "excitable kid."

It's clear now that Sen. Weicker had plenty to get excited about in the Watergate case, and a great many others — including Kleindienst — would look much better today if they'd got excited about it in the same way many months ago.

Team being formed for local agencies' United Way drive

We won't utilize this space to an excessive degree to discuss the Tri-Cities Area United Way, even though we are leading the annual campaign this year.
But it may be appropriate today to present our view of the drive, as outlined in a talk to the United Way board of directors at the time the new goal was announced and the challenge to meet it was accepted.

We started out by thanking Chairman David Fox and the Board and Allocations Committee headed by his skilled handling of a difficult task. Their June report sets the stage for the October solicitation.

President Paul Kelly and the United Way board have shown in placing the drive responsibilities on the group of citizen volunteers currently being formed.

Executive Director Pete Nasir and the United Way staff are being praised for their well-organized, positive approach to the big job ahead.

The plan which was reviewed calls for every potential contributor to be contacted directly by another person, not just by a letter.

Also, each potential giver is to be asked to pledge a fair share (not as much as national average, but a level greater than the level on United Way cards last year).

If everyone gives—if no cards are left "unworked"—and if those who do contribute give enough, the campaign cannot help but top its goal.

Is this over-optimistic? Not if the qualifications are noted. It takes everybody giving and just as important, everybody giving enough.

While there is solid belief in the goal of over $100 per cent drive this fall, it won't happen automatically. It will only happen if enough Quad-City residents, business, business, organizations and agencies "roll up their sleeves" and make it happen.

We said to the United Way board, it's very important that this be a "turn-around year."

The agencies must have not just the pre-campaign allocation, but more.

The service agencies supported part by the Tri-Cities Area United Way have performed really significant, vitally-needed work of direct local benefit for many years.

In recent years, their effort has been increasing but they had an increasingly difficult burden due to the combined impact of expanded community needs, economic recession and a diminishing base of monetary support associated with the employment downturn.

Many of the agencies still have not recovered from the severe effect of an unexpected loss of income.

It both sickens and infuriates me that anyone could call such torture a sport.

These agencies can sometimes be in trouble for days before someone comes along to check them—starving to death and choking off their legs trying to get free. Is this what is called sport?

Also, domestic animals and poorly sharp crotch in United Way revenue and disbursements a few months ago, after they were already geared for a different spending level.

What is proposed in the $400,000 basic goal this October in the kind of expenditures which were financed two years ago. And there have been two years of inflation since that time.

In shaping the $400,000 basic goal, it also was impossible to give much regard to the cut-back referred to. After adjusting themselves to their various 1973 operating budgets, the agencies felt the impact of an unexpectedly severe reduction—30 per cent. Debts and deferred programs and purchases resulted.

The $400,000 is described as the "basic" goal—a target which has an asterisk attached. More than the basic amount is needed.

There isn't any waste or in-hedious spending. Each dollar is spent wisely. This is a plan which produces more than a dollar's worth of value, due to the truly frugal approach followed by each member agency.

Avoidance of duplication of services perhaps requires eternal vigilance. It's always good to "sharpen the pencil" at budget time—as long as the contributors avoid a scapel followed by each member agency.

Through direct talks with agency administrators, officers and board early in 1974, the Planning Committee will seek to define boundaries between various organizations in performing the work that is financed by the United Way.

As visualized, this will involve full give-and-take. The United Way will not claim to be infallible and all-wise. It will not arbitrarily reassign categories of services it will not ignore valid counter-arguments by affected agencies.

But through such discussions, there may well be helpful, mutually desirable breakthroughs in categorizing the various functions in new and more efficient ways.

In the meantime, through "clearing-houses" and other procedures, wasteful activity is being avoided.

The agencies do not always receive the heartfelt praise but they truly deserve it for their conscientious and humanitarian approach to diverse duties and service opportunities.

With this in mind, it is the hope and commitment of the campaign team that the agencies receive not only the full allocations but also that they share — fully—on the basis of verified needs—in additional funds.

FAVORS REQUIRING MORE HUMANE TRAPS

To the Editor:
I congratulate the Forum writers on the fine job they did in helping stop HB 102 in the Illinois legislature. This bill could have reduced cruelty to animals by banning the use of leg-hold traps.

Thanks to such people we can now look forward to two more years of animals being tortured to death by these things.

If the bill had passed, they still could have been trapped, but would have had to end humane traps.

One said it both saddened and infuriated him that men were even considering taking away the sport (?) of trapping and, in some cases, supplementary livelihood.

It both sickens and infuriates me that anyone could call such torture a sport.

These animals can sometimes be in trouble for days before someone comes along to check them—starving to death and choking off their legs trying to get free. Is this what is called sport?

Also, domestic animals and children can get caught in these traps.

Who would recent it if he could not kill animals on the endangered species list? People like this we can do without.

APPRECIATED COLUMN ON COMMUNITY'S PAST

To the Editor:

The June 28 "Winter wonderland" was headed, "As Stetbeck said, 'How do we know it's us without our past?'"

Not only am I grateful for my way of living—having spent 51 years in Granite City making my living—but also for a man who can write as you did that article in the Press-Record.

Thanks again for the article about our past. I shall put it with other articles that I am constantly clipping and saving. God bless you always.

White mule found in milk can

July 14, 1923
An apparently profitable July weekend for two local men turned out to be a close call with the law when police investigated reports that two people were carrying around a large milk can—containing something that was being sold very fast. Officers discovered that the can contained "white mule." Because it was their first offense, the two were released with small fines.

GC school tax projected

A tax charge of $8,927,736 has been extended for collection this year for the Granite City School District on the basis of the 1972 tax rate of $5.041 per $100 assessed valuation. The Board of Education was informed last week by Miss Eulalia Holz, Madison County clerk.

The extension is only $213,251 higher than that of $8,714,485 for the previous year, despite the jump in the rate from $3.71 for 1971 to $5.041 for 1972 tax year, a 36-cent increase.

Miss Holz listed assessed valuation in the school district in 1972 at $216,530,372, a drop of $10,540,231 from the 1971 valuation of $227,070,603.

Victor Anderson, comptroller for the school district, explained that an assessment increase of $2,500,387 had been predicted rather than the $10.5 million decrease.

"With the court's ruling on the abolition of personal property tax, the Homestead Exemption, and loss of real property valuation, we, in fact, sustained a . . . loss from our projected assessed valuation," Anderson explained.

"It appears at this time that we may expect a further decrease in the assessed valuation next year," Anderson said and added, "The effect of this is readily visible. The less assessed valuation a district has, the higher the tax rate must be to raise the monies needed to support the budget."

The amount extended for the educational fund by the $5.35 rate is $5,518,974. Another

Hire 12 GC school custodians

The Granite City Board of Education hired 12 custodians during its regular meeting last week. Eight fill new positions and four replace custodians who have resigned or retired.

Five of the new custodians will fill positions created by the board last week for Granite City High School-North.

Tully A. Huebner, director of buildings and grounds for the district, told the board that in June seven custodial jobs were created for the school and at that time the board was informed additional positions would be created in the future.

He said that as construction of the building continues, more custodians are needed to prepare completed classrooms and school areas for the scheduled opening Sept. 5.

Hired to begin work when the district's personnel office feels they are needed were: Clement Andria, 3545 Carlson Ave.; Charles Brimm, 2310 Ohio Ave.; Robert Carson, 2147 Lee Ave.; John Doreghani, 4227 Stearns Ave.; Ronald Frazier, 2135 Dewey Ave.

The resignation of Nina Purdus, a middle primary teacher at Niedringhaus School, and the retirement request of Beulah Mills, a Mitchell School kindergarten teacher were accepted with regrets.

The board re-appointed Mrs. Mossall Long as a guard and Mrs. Patricia Gant as an alternate guard for crossings at Mitchell School and Virgil Carr as crossing guard at Maryville School.

Each must have a $10,000 public official bond and be deputized to perform the duties. The cost to the school district for bonds will be $200, board members were informed.

The total cost for crossing guards was estimated at $2,705, with the federal government reimbursing $1,800 if the application is approved.

GSI creates engineering division Hospital Notes

General Steel Industries, Inc., announced last week the formation of the GSI Engineering Division to service existing license agreements for the design of suspension systems and trucks for maritime passenger, rapid transit and commuter cars and locomotives.

GSI will provide consulting engineers to the transportation industry and will continue its research and development activities in the fields of railcar suspension and related areas.

W. Ashley Gray Jr., chairman of the board of GSI, said the new division, which will function as a separate profit center, will enable GSI to take advantage of a world-wide reputation for leadership in the engineering and design of railway trucks. GSI-designed trucks are in service in over 100 countries.

Douglas G. E. Wilmut has been appointed general manager of the GSI Engineering Division and Keith L. Jackson, director of engineering, Wilmut formerly was vice-president, engineering, and Mr. Jackson, chief engineer, design of GSI's Castings Division plant in Granite City, Illinois.

GSI Engineering will serve existing licensing arrangements with railway truck producers in eight foreign countries — Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil,

KEITH L. JACKSON

Douglas Wilmut

England, Portugal, South Africa and Spain — and will continue to provide them with innovative engineering designs and production technology.

Additional licensing opportunities are being explored outside of the United States and negotiations are under way for the establishment of a domestic licensee to further advance the GSI world-wide reputation in the field of railcar suspension systems.

In addition to the new GSI Engineering, General Steel Industries, Inc., is composed of five operating divisions which manufacture industrial equipment and transportation safety products. Corporate headquarters is in St. Louis County.

County considered for home detention program

Madison County is one of four in the state being considered for a grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (ILEC).

Ellis noted that the home program would not work for all young offenders as it would be necessary to confine some of them.

The length of supervision in the home program would vary.

The plan may be considered at a meeting of the ILEEC board of directors at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville.

The board meeting will be followed by the quarterly meeting of the commission's steering committee.

Ellis said Madison County is to submit an application for the program if local officials wish to participate.

He said that under the plan, a person in each neighborhood would be assigned to keep close contact with the children. The sounders would supervise two to five children and would be available 24 hours a day to assure that the children stay out of trouble and appear in court as scheduled.

The cost of about $5 per day is less than confining a child to a detention home, Ellis said. According to Ann Perello, superintendent of the Madison County Detention Home, the cost of keeping a child there is $25 per day.

State grand jury plan heated issue

Opry News Service Springfield—The scramble for the Republican nomination for governor in 1978 began in earnest the last night of the legislative session.

Atty. Gen. Bill Scott, the acknowledged frontrunner for the nomination of this early date, blasted House Speaker Bob Blair, who would also like the nomination.

Scott's favorite bill of the legislative session, one granting him the power to convene statewide grand juries, failed to pass the House by one vote. Guess who didn't vote for it? "Blair's problem is his obligation to the West Side bloc, to Mr. Murphy," Scott charged. "He sold his soul during the speaker's vote."

Rep. Bill Murphy, R-Antich, was appointed a Republican whip by Blair after Murphy supported Blair for speaker last winter.

Scott, in an unusual move, charged that the state is being run by a "transvestite of gangsters, politicians and businessmen."

He said Blair had broken his word about support of the bill and said that he would "absolutely not" support Blair for another term as house speaker.

Unlike Scott, Blair is accustomed to verbally berating his opposition, whether they be members of his own party or not.

However, this time he said that Scott is "by any standard one of the finest chief legal officers this state has ever had."

The speaker said that Scott should run for the U. S. Senate against Sen. Adlai Stevenson next year. He did not say that if Scott ran and won that would significantly help Blair's own political ambitions.

Rather, he said that if Scott ran and won then Gov. Dan Walker could appoint an "unscrupulous Democrat" who could abuse the new powers given the attorney general.

As usual, the merits of the legislation got lost in the politics of the question.

Scott has sought the power to convene statewide grand juries for several years. He says the power is a necessary tool to fight organized crime because local-level state's attorneys do not have the manpower and resources available to them to undertake such investigations.

Here's what Blair said in May: "The attorney general does not have, it appears to me, sufficient power in the area of grand jury and there are circumstances where it's not sufficient for local state's attorneys to cover some things that have statewide implications."

"I think that's probably the thrust of the attorney general's bill and I frankly think it would be a good tool for this attorney general or any other attorney general to have."

The opponents, now including Blair, say that a grand jury is a "baroque weapon," especially in the hands of an overly ambitious prosecutor.

Persons concerned about civil liberties of individuals are opposed to the grand jury concept in general because of its coercive nature.

But, as Scott has pointed out, persons who blocked the grand jury bill before have ended up in the short end on election day.

Bicycle riding recommended

"It takes one fifth the energy to ride a bike than it does to walk a mile," the Rev. Frank Christ told his fellow Rotary Club members at their Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison Recreation Center.

"About six weeks ago I began riding a bike and have covered 400 miles in short trips around town, enjoying every minute of it. It has become a real family fun thing to do with the wife and children and I would recommend everyone that can to ride a bike."

"It takes me eight minutes to drive from our church in Madison to St. Elizabeth hospital and I can ride a bike in only 12 minutes. A bike is the most efficient form of travel when you consider weight, energy and distance traveled."

Rev. Christ presented a program on bicycles in which he traced the origin of the bicycle from a crude beginning in France in 1818.

The meeting was presided over by Rotarian Wade James, the club's new president who assumed his duties at the Wednesday meeting. James is assistant superintendent of schools in Madison and the first black to be elected president of the club.

Rotarian Frank Fijan, program chairman for next week's meeting, announced that representatives from the hospital will discuss emergency room procedures.

Treatment plant building to begin during August

Construction of Granite City's secondary sewage treatment plant for which an $8,881,175 federal grant was authorized last week will get under way next month, city officials were told here last week in a meeting with representatives of the treatment plant engineers and contractor.

Mayor Paul Schuler said the discussion of pre-construction procedure followed receipt on July 11 of the official notice of the federal grant award. The notice was received from Valdes Adamson, acting regional administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Chicago.

Schuler said representatives of the G.L. Turbin Co., construction contractors of St. Louis which has a $10.8 million "letter of intent" contract agreement with the city to build the plant, informed city officials the firm can begin construction immediately upon clearance of procedure required by the EPA.

Principal procedure yet remaining will be a pre-award contract compliance conference between city officials and EPA officials. Time and place of the conference will be set by EPA, the mayor said, and the beginning of work on plant construction will depend upon when that conference is held.

"We are sure that work will start on the new plant during August, but at this point we can't say just when in August," he said.

At the same time, engineers of the M.W. Architects & Engineers, the city's special engineers for the treatment project, said a schedule of new sewer user fees should be ready for action by the council in two to three weeks.

The city must approve the new rate schedule before it can sell a $4,000,000 bond issue of which $3 million will be used to finance the city's share of construction cost. The remaining $1,000,000 will be used to refinance outstanding bonds that were sold to build the primary treatment plant.

Attending last week's conference were R.P. Elmerman, R.L. Newsum and J.A. Ritty of the Turbin Construction Co.; Aaron Pierson and Horchel Umboh of the M.W. engineering firm; Horace Calvo, special bond attorney; Mayor Schuler; George Fillos, city attorney; City Clerk Robert Stevens and City Treasurer Paul Rutledge, and Aldermen Ronald Coleman, R.E. Robertson and Everett Morley.

Camp Sunnen gets top rating

Boy Scout Camp Sunnen, operated by the Cahokia Mount Council, received a perfect score on 117 items verified by William Davidson and Lewis Shelbourne, inspection team representing the North Central Region of the Boy Scouts of America, with offices in Kansas City, Mo.

The inspectors spent six hours at Camp Sunnen checking items regarding safety, feeding, qualifications of staff, camp financial records and program areas.

"You certainly have a camp to be proud of here. It is rare that we find a camp that complies so fully with the strict standards of the Boy Scouts of America," Shelbourne said.

"I have been in Scouting 30 years and never have seen a camp so well operated," Robert Hanaiah, scout executive of the Piana Bird Council, with offices in Wood River, said.

Accompanying the Regional inspection team were Hanaiah and L. Allan Klop, camping chairman of the Piana Bird Council; W. F. "Dick" Strang of Madison, camping chairman for the Cahokia Mount Council; Dr. Thomas Layfield, R. Hollis Benn and Dr. George T. Wilkins, all was set with the more than 420,000 IP electric customers over one-fourth the land area of Illinois using 42,355,810 kilowatt hours of electricity on Monday. This was 1.6 percent above the 1972 record of 41,563,550 kilowatt hours on Aug. 16, 1972 and the second time this summer that usage has exceeded the 1972 top figure.
